launch event 'Everybody Hurts'

A number of key agencies and individuals (including young people themselves) will facilitate a series of round table discussions focusing specifically on some of the key issues relating to self-harm (including policies and procedures; legal responsibilities and concerns; harm minimization, information and resources and models of good practice)

We are also proud to be launching two new resources:

Painful Secrets: A qualitative study into the reasons why young women self-harm – A report summarizing the key findings of our year long study on self-harm with young women aged 11-25 from across five London boroughs.

A Training DVD on Young People and Self-harm – Written, produced, filmed, directed and acted in by young people in collaboration with The Mouth That Roars. This unique DVD is the result of extensive consultations in England, Scotland and Wales with young people and professionals on the issue of self-harm.

Aims for the day...

- To launch two new resources on self-harm and young people
- To hear from young people/service users about their experiences of self-harm
- To generate dialogue and debate on some of the current issues surrounding self-harm in the UK
- To provide examples of models of good practice
- To identify useful resources and information
- To provide participants with a range of strategies and tools designed at increasing their knowledge and understanding of self-harm amongst young people
- To promote networking and information sharing

Who should attend...

- Anyone with an interest in young people and self-harm
- Service Users/ Survivors / Young People
- Carers
- Voluntary and Statutory agencies and service providers
- Schools
- Youth Workers
- NHS and independent mental health professionals
